

Create your Direct Brokerage easy access

You will soon see a yellow banner at the top of the National Bank Direct Brokerage online platform inviting you to switch to email identification. This ID will be unique for all your National Bank and subsidiary online services.

Don't see the banner?

The process will take place in several waves over the next few weeks. It is quite possible that you will be part of a later wave.

In addition, clients must maintain their 8-digit identifier if they have:

- Market-Q tool

Easy access will be available at a later date.
